

Inclusive Celebrations Are More Important Than Ever! Let AVMS Help!

Social events are changing... the way they look, how they are attended and how they are handled. Whether you are gathering for a reunion, graduation, birthday, baby shower, bridal/groom party, wedding, celebration of life or simply meeting a few friends over a glass of wine, AVMS is here to assist you make your in-person, virtual event or hybrid experience a success.

Don't forget to ask yourself a few important questions prior to planning your social gathering:

- What is the best platform to use?
- How can someone virtually participate?
- Can we still have a seamless event with in-person and virtual attendees together?
- Can you customize our celebration outside of your normal offerings?
- Do I need a lot of technical assistance to reach my audience?
- How can I keep everyone safe and comfortable?
- How can I keep everyone engaged in the celebration?

Once you've considered these questions, AVMS can help build the ideal virtual social experience.

Audio Conference: Utilizing the telephone or computer, attendees can participate audibly in multiple locations. AVMS can assist with touch-to-talk microphones, Polycom speakerphone or additional audio assistance.

Video Conference: Whether planning a social gathering or simply talking with family and friends, a video conference includes both video and audio components connecting people in remote locations. A partnership with AVMS will ensure crisp audio connections and clear visuals during your event.

Webcasting: When you want to engage your audience, a webcast can accommodate a video broadcast through the use of the Internet. These can be live or recorded. A link can be shared in order to ensure participation. AVMS can help you raise the bar with green screens, content creation and video editing services.

Webinars: Also known as web-conferences, these events take place while they are actually occurring and allow for attendee interaction through Q&A, chat rooms and interactive polling. Get creative with presentation overlays, audience participation and multiple cameras for a fresh perspective.

Hybrid Experience: Combining a live social event with a streaming element to ensure participation from everyone that you want to attend. You can make it fun and engaging for your audience, while at the same time allowing your audience to be immersed in your event with social media boards, live toasts and full event coverage.

No matter your preferred virtual social experience, AVMS is here to ensure that you achieve your event goals. From concept to applause, in person or virtually, AVMS will collaborate, communicate and captivate. Please contact AVMS at info@avms.com or (206) 694-4444.
